Privacy Practices and ID Theft Protection

Identity theft is one of the biggest and fastest growing crimes in America today. This devastating problem involves not only theft of financial information, but theft of social security numbers, driver's licenses, and medical records.

Our office has the responsibility for taking every precaution to protect your personal information. This includes complying with federal privacy laws regarding how our office gathers, uses, discloses and manages your information.

Although the company that provides the electronic health records software and billing service for our office has certain safeguards in place, there is no guarantee that health information can be protected against theft by any business institution or government agency.

Therefore, by law, our office must advise you of our efforts to reduce the risk of identity fraud and minimize potential damage. We also have an obligation to make available an optional, affordable "LegalShield" plan that provides credit monitoring for ID theft, identity restoration on your behalf and access to comprehensive legal services to meet your needs.

For more information about "LegalShield" plans, please contact Dr. Mayer.
